TOKYO, Nov. 19 (Kyodo) — Wakodo Co. said Monday it will voluntarily recall 75,000 packs of baby food because they might contain small pieces of plastic film.

Subject to the recall is a rice dish with small white fish and radish whose recommended eat-by date is Jan. 6, 2014.

Wakodo received reports of plastic film measuring about 2 X 2 centimeters being found in packs from consumers in Hyogo prefecture on Oct. 22 and from Kagoshima prefecture on Nov. 2, but no harm has been reported, according to the company.
