

Black Friday Ale Lives Up To Its Name

Published on Food Manufacturing (<http://www.foodmanufacturing.com>)

Black Friday Ale Lives Up To Its Name

MILWAUKEE (AP) — One Milwaukee brewery is getting in on the Black Friday action.

Lakefront Brewery created Black Friday Imperial India Style Black Ale and even trademarked the name.

Brewery President Russ Klisch says there were 150 people lined up by 8 a.m., with one guy claiming he arrived just after bar time.

They sold out of their 1,200 bottles in less than two hours.

They went for $10 each and there was a three bottle maximum. The first 300 people also received a special glass, which Klisch said he already saw on eBay for $100.

Next year he plans to make five times as much and serve it on the tours, although he doesn't know if it will be the same brew.

Source URL (retrieved on 01/26/2015 - 6:26pm):

http://www.foodmanufacturing.com/news/2012/11/black-friday-ale-lives-its-name?qt-recent_content=0