

Photo Of The Day: Palestinians Go Organic

(AP) — In this photograph made on Monday, Oct. 22, 2012, a Palestinian farmer Khader Khader, 31, sorts olives on his land in Nisf Jubeil, near the West Bank city of Nablus, Monday.

In an emerging back-to-the-land movement, Palestinian farmers are turning the rocky hills of the West Bank into organic olive groves, selling their oil to high-end grocers in the U.S. and Europe. (AP Photo/Majdi Mohammed)
