

Mountain Valley Spring Water Adds Workers

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Hot Springs-based Mountain Valley Spring Water has been adding employees and increasing its revenue.

Mountain Valley Chairman and CEO Breck Speed says the company added 40 workers in the last year and has seen revenue grow by 38 percent in that span.

Speed says the company has a number of ways to reach customers, including co-packaging for companies around the country that want their own logos on glass or plastic bottles.

The Sentinel-Record [1] reports that the company is adding new product lines. Speed says the new products are in line with what the company produced earlier in its history.

Mountain Valley sold ginger ale and other beverages about 100 years ago. Speed says sparkling water is also an important growth area for the company.
