

McCormick Considers Move from Maryland Headquarters

SPARKS, Md. (AP) — Spice maker McCormick & Co. [1] says it's considering moving its world headquarters from Sparks, where it employs several hundred people.

Spokeswoman Lori Robinson tells WBAL-AM [2] Wednesday that the company is in the preliminary stages of considering a possible move from northern Baltimore County.

She says McCormick aims to consolidate four offices at one location. Robinson says the company is looking at several possibilities, including downtown Baltimore and Pennsylvania. She says the spice, seasoning and condiment maker also might stay in Sparks, but at a different location.
