

Photos of the Day: UN Provides Food to Drought-Ravaged Haiti

In this Tuesday, March 25, 2014 photo, students hold out their plates as the school cook ladles out a bulgur wheat and bean dish at a public school in Bombardopolis, Haiti. Drought is hitting one of the hungriest, most desolate parts of the most impoverished nation in the hemisphere and it has alarmed international aid organizations such the U.N. World Food Program, which sent workers this week to pass out bulgur wheat, cooking oil and salt. (AP Photo/Dieu Nalio Chery)

Read: Drought Ravages Crops in Haiti [1]

Photos of the Day: UN Provides Food to Drought-Ravaged Haiti

Published on Food Manufacturing (<http://www.foodmanufacturing.com>)

---

In this Monday, March 24, 2014 photo, an aid worker fills a sack with bulgur wheat during distribution of food by the U.N. World Food Program at a local school in Bombardopolis, northwest Haiti. The agency said it has given food to 164,000 people in the region so far, as well as 6,000 seed kits for farmers. (AP Photo/Dieu Nalio Chery)

Photos of the Day: UN Provides Food to Drought-Ravaged Haiti

Published on Food Manufacturing (<http://www.foodmanufacturing.com>)

---

In this Wednesday, March 26, 2014 photo, workers collect salt from the salt evaporation ponds in Anse-Rouge, northwestern Haiti. Drought is hitting this region, one of the hungriest, most desolate parts of the most impoverished nation in the hemisphere and it has alarmed international aid organizations. (AP Photo/Dieu Nalio Chery)

Source URL (retrieved on 01/25/2015 - 7:53am):

<http://www.foodmanufacturing.com/news/2014/03/photos-day-un-provides-food-drought-ravaged-haiti>

Links:

[1] <http://www.foodmanufacturing.com/news/2014/03/drought-ravages-crops-haiti>