Check Out the USDA's Sweet Bees!

Holly Henschen, Editor

It's spring, or so the calendar says, and that means it's go time for bees. The People's Garden Apiary located on the roof of the Jamie L. Whitten Building at USDA Headquarters in Washington, DC is home to approximately 40,000 Italian honey bees. Log some bee time at your leisure by tuning into the live bee cam. Check it out here [1]. It's a the bee's knees. And a bit mesmerizing.
