

Infographic: The Egg Production Reality

The Production Reality

Production:
(worldwide)

Average of 186 eggs per hen

annually from around 6½ billion hens. For decades, hens were doing a good job at their daily work, increasing production by about ...

1¾ EGGS
per hen annually.¹

Since the late 1990s:

The productivity trend has reversed, declining nearly an egg per hen annually.¹

nearly an egg per hen annually.

Productivity decline has been a result of continued disease challenges, changing production practices and removing innovation from some parts of the world.

1. Dr. Roger Cady, Elanco Animal Health. Milk Protein Gap Analysis. 2013. Data on File.

Source URL (retrieved on 03/01/2015 - 12:31pm):

<http://www.foodmanufacturing.com/news/2014/05/infographic-egg-production-reality>