

Ocean Spray Worker Dies After Falling Through Skylight

Associated Press

HENDERSON, Nev. (AP) — Authorities say a Nevada man is dead after falling through a skylight at the Ocean Spray fruit juice distribution center where he worked.

Clark County coroner's officials say 53-year-old Harry Lentz died at a hospital after the Saturday morning accident at the Black Mountain Distribution Center in Henderson.

Nevada's Occupational Safety and Health Administration is investigating.

Lentz's ex-wife, Lane Lentz, told the Las Vegas Sun that her former husband worked for Ocean Spray for 20 years as a mechanical and electrical technician. She says the Las Vegas man often worked on the roof to maintain the air conditioning.

Source URL (retrieved on 01/31/2015 - 2:15am):

<http://www.foodmanufacturing.com/news/2014/07/ocean-spray-worker-dies-after-falling-through-skylight>