

Canada Officials Recall Food Products Over Listeria, E.coli Concerns

The Canadian Press

OTTAWA — Federal health officials have announced recalls of two products due to concerns about listeriosis and a third recall due to possible E.coli.

Concord Premium Meats Ltd. is recalling Marc Angelo brand Genoa Salami in 100-gram packages with a best-before date of Dec. 01, 2014.

The salami was distributed in Ontario and Quebec

Avina Fresh Mushrooms brand Sliced Crimini Mushrooms in 454 gram packages are also being recalled due to possible Listeria monocytogenes.

The mushrooms are sold in Alberta and B.C.

The Canadian Food Inspection Agency is also recalling certain brands of La Fromagerie Hamel brand French cheeses in Quebec due to possible E. coli.

Consumers with any of these products are advised to throw them out or return them to the store where purchased.

The CFIA says no illnesses associated with these recalls have been reported.

Source URL (retrieved on 01/29/2015 - 2:16am):

<http://www.foodmanufacturing.com/news/2014/08/canada-officials-recall-food-products-over-listeria-ecoli-concerns>