

Manufacturing Operations Management Software

Lindsey Jahn, Associate Editor

TrakSYS™ Manufacturing Operations Management (MOM) and Manufacturing Execution System (MES) software provides a highly integrated application that helps manufacturers improve asset utilization and efficiency, increase capacity of current capital equipment, reduce production costs, decrease lead time, and improve profitability. TrakSYS 8 R2 is the latest version of the software. It is designed to handle enterprise-level information management with the robustness required of a mission critical application. The real-time and transactional data management engines are optimized for handling large volumes of data, not just for storage, but also for highly contextualized information visualization, collaboration and distribution.
