

Cartoning and End-of-Line Packaging

Lindsey Jahn, Associate Editor

Company offers two different approaches for cartoning and end-of-line packaging. To pack light-weight products, new delta robotic technology ensures smooth transfer of the packages for flexible pack patterns. For packages with higher payloads, the new case packer offers high flexibility with a wide range of bag and case sizes and styles. It is designed for quick changeovers to accommodate vertical (stand up) or horizontal (lay flat) bag orientation.
