

Cloud-Based Supply Chain Solution

Lindsey Jahn, Associate Editor

The new collaborative platform, T.Transparency, is a single, dedicated, cloud-based solution that connects all supply chain communities to provide improved supply chain visibility, better collaboration and increased productivity. The solution allows business partners to respond to consumer demand for information, improves consumer confidence and reinforces brand loyalty. Available as a standalone solution or fully integrated with Company's private label PLM suite, the product provides supply chain partners with the ability to connect and share real-time information about raw materials, compliance standards and documentation like factory audits and certifications.
