

Wireless Temperature & Humidity Monitoring

The HOBOWireless Temp/RH Monitoring Kit is an easy-to-use wireless system that includes everything needed to make environmental monitoring fast, cost-effective and convenient. In three easy steps, users can monitor critical temperature and humidity conditions, log data for trend analysis and stay notified of alarm conditions via text or email, all without the hassles of wires or manual data offload. Key features include:

- Fast, easy set up out of the box
- Centralized monitoring straight from the desktop
- Alarm notifications via text or email
- Automated data delivery to remote locations via email or FTP
- Flexible design for easy system expandability
