

VIDEO: World Cup Team Hotels Raided Over Food Safety

Published on Food Manufacturing (<http://www.foodmanufacturing.com>)

VIDEO: World Cup Team Hotels Raided Over Food Safety

The Guardian

Brazilian health and safety officials raid the England and Italy team hotels in Rio de Janeiro for next month's World Cup, confiscating fish, meat and other food past their sell-by dates. Salmon, parma ham and butter was removed from England's Royal Tulip hotel, while 50kg of meat, seafood and pasta was taken from the Italian side's Portobello hotel.

Source URL (retrieved on 01/27/2015 - 9:12pm):

<http://www.foodmanufacturing.com/videos/2014/06/video-world-cup-team-hotels-raided-over-food-safety>